New MIT center tackles issues involving water and food, opportunities for clean tech entrepreneurs, and more!

on food system fragilities amidst war,
The J-WAFS-led FACT Alliance and the series narratives can engage communities.
about topics like extreme heat and Environmental Solutions Initiative write MIT's ESI Fellows report keeping carbon in soil in the ground. regenerative agriculture is pivotal in The executive director of MIT's Climate Natural carbon sinks

Join us in congratulating Amos Winter on his recent promotion to full engineering research center and more J-WAFS PI Amos Winter celebrates new global

Open challenge areas include sustainable food systems.
Deadline: Thursday, April 18

Cleantech startups, including those related to water or food, can apply to gain Cleantech Open Northeast

The Doyle Lab is working on commercialization position in the lab of J-WAFS PI Pat

Fady Jameel highlights role of wetlands promotes the ability of wetlands to act as natural filters that purify water by mitigates
contaminate water around mining sites alternative to cobalt, which can
The past J-WAFS PI developed a battery

Robert Robinson Taylor, who established founded ag institute found Energy, which is cleaning up the on podcast

J-WAFS Fellow featured

J-WAFS PI's team in the fertilizer industry and more, joined the low carbon batteries alternative to lithium, which is The past J-WAFS PI is working on batteries

mitigates

MIT's Sustainability Initiative Lunch Series

Tue, Feb
15, 11:45 a.m. – 12:45 p.m. ET, Online and In-person
Thur, Feb
MIT's Sustainability Initiative Lunch Series

Wed, Mar
27 – Wednesday, March 20, 5:00 – 8:00 p.m. ET, Online

2023 MIT Office of Sustainability details climate goals
The 2023 MIT Office of Sustainability report highlights climate action, including emissions benefits per capita are minimal. over two months, but the net economic A study involving UK water customers looks at water audits

New J-PAL working paper reads about Hawaii's ecosystem that is changing due to climate change.
Dave Des Marais and his students taveled to Hawaii to conduct research

J-WAFS PI conducts field

Food systems evidence grants

J-WAFS PI conducts field

J-WAFS Parker Institute of

The team of J-WAFS PI works on to understand the

Interested in supporting J-WAFS?